HARVARD MEDICAL SCHOOL BOSTON

REQUIREMENTS FOR ADMISSION

All candidates must present evidence satisfactory to the Committee on Admission not simply that they have passed the courses necessary to fulfil the requirements, but also that their college work has been of such character as to give promise of work of high quality in the medical course.

On the above basis this School considers for admission to its classes graduates in arts or in science of approved colleges or scientific schools.

In exceptional cases applicants without a degree who have completed two or more years of work in a college or scientific school of high rank, provided they present certificates that they have scholastic standing placing them in the first third of their class, may be admitted.

LANGUAGE AND SCIENCE REQUIREMENTS*

- (a) All applicants must present evidence that they have such knowledge of English as is ordinarily required of all candidates for a degree in an approved college and that they have a reading knowledge of French or of German.
- (b) They must present evidence that they have college credits for at least a year's work in general inorganic chemistry, in physics, in biology, and in organic chemistry.

To meet the science requirements satisfactorily, time credit in college should be secured as follows:

Inorganic Chemistry: A minimum of eight semester hours, of which at least four should be laboratory work.

Organic Chemistry: A minimum of eight semester hours, of which at least four should be laboratory work.

Physics: A minimum of eight semester hours, of which at least two should be laboratory work.

^{*} It is assumed that before admission to an acceptable college a four years' course in High School or its equivalent will have been completed.

Biology: A minimum of eight semester hours (including not less than four hours of zoölogy), of which at least four should be laboratory work.

Note. — A semester hour is one hour of lecture or recitation, or two hours of laboratory work, per week for one half-year or sixteen weeks. Full courses at Harvard count as eight semester hours.

These requirements must be satisfied in full before matriculation.

Students are requested to apply for admission before March 1, on blanks furnished by the Assistant Dean.

ADMISSION TO ADVANCED STANDING

Students who have begun their medical studies in approved medical schools may be admitted to advanced standing and become candidates for the degree of M.D. under the following conditions. Only men of high scholastic standing will be considered.

They must have fulfilled the requirements for admission enumerated above prior to their matriculation as students of medicine. They must be vouched for as promising men by the Dean or by some other responsible officer of the School from which they come.

They must furnish a certificate of time spent in medical study at least equal to that spent by the class to which they seek admission.

They must furnish a certificate showing that they have done satisfactory laboratory and practical work in the subjects already pursued by the class to which they seek admission. The Committee on Admission will decide in each case whether examinations in the various subjects shall be required.

GENERAL REGULATIONS

Students are divided into four classes according to their time of study and proficiency. The Faculty reserves the right to require the withdrawal of any student at any time whenever in the opinion of his instructors it is manifest that he is incompetent, or for any reason is unfit to continue his course.

Students registering in the Medical School for the first time will meet in the amphitheatre in Building C, on Friday, preceding the last Wednesday in September, at 9.30 A.M.

In order that the time of study shall count as a full year, students of all upper classes * must register on Monday, the first day of the session.

For special and approved purposes students may be allowed to take a portion of their work elsewhere than at the Harvard Medical School, provided that the application be approved by the Dean in consultation with the Administrative Board and the head of the department concerned, and provided that the student pass an examination on this work after its completion, conducted by a member of the Faculty of the Harvard Medical School.

EXAMINATIONS AND PROMOTION

Each student will receive a rating in each course based upon examinations or other tests as determined by each department. These marks shall be on the scale of A, B, C, D, and E (E denoting failure).

No student is allowed to anticipate the examinations in the regular course of studies of his year except by special permission of the Administrative Board.

A brief thesis is required of all matriculants, excepting transfer students to the third or fourth year. A suitable subject will be selected, under the guidance of an advisor, and the thesis must be completed by October 1st, of the student's third year.

After two failures to pass an examination each student must pay a fee of three dollars at the Dean's Office before appearing for each additional examination in the same subject.

A Promotion Board for each of the first three years, consisting of members of each department giving the principal courses during that year, will meet in February (if occasion arises), to act upon cases presented as a result of the work of the first half-year and will meet in June for the work of the entire year. The Boards will determine and send to the Dean's Office, before the final Faculty meeting in June, a mark for each student for the corresponding school year.

It is the duty of a Promotion Board, after receiving marks from the departments concerned, to promote those qualified, to warn or condition any student as occasion demands, to interview and examine any student as to whom it is in doubt, and to recommend to the Faculty that unpromising students be requested to withdraw.

The actions of the Promotion Boards are final, subject only to the standing rules of the Faculty which follow and to confirmation by that body. Students shall not ask for reconsideration from any member of the Promotion Boards. Such requests may be made only in case there is a change in the information upon which the action was taken, must be made in writing to the Assistant Dean, and must be in his hands before July 15th.

- 1. A student who fails two major subjects in one year shall withdraw from the School.
- 2. Passing in all subjects with a minimal grade is not sufficient grounds for promotion. Any student who has failed to be promoted under this rule, and who wishes to repeat the previous year, must apply to the Committee on Admission for permission to do so.
- 3. The Promotion Boards at their discretion may promote a student who has failed in one subject in a year, but such a student shall not be promoted a second time nor be allowed to take the General Examination until that failure is removed.

- 4. A student failing any course shall have an opportunity for reëxamination only in September or with a succeeding class or section. This rule shall not prevent a special examination, after a lapse of two months, for students who have been required to withdraw by the Promotion Boards.
- 5. No course marks may be given out except by the Dean or Assistant Dean.

The Committee on Examinations will give a General Examination to each candidate for the degree of M.D., will give him a final mark, and will recommend to the Faculty those properly qualified for the degree and for honors. The Examination will include written, oral or practical tests, at the discretion of the Committee. It will be held in June and provided there are qualified applicants in February and may be held at other times if the Committee so decides.

The conditions under which a student may be allowed to take his General Examination, and the character and conduct of the Examination, will be determined by the Committee, subject only to the rules of the Faculty which follow:

- 1. The Committee on Examinations shall not admit a student to the General Examination unless he has passed at least seven-eighths of his fourth-year courses, including medicine and surgery, and fulfilled all of the other requirements of the Faculty.
- 2. A student who has failed three times in a General Examination shall be debarred from further attempts.

WITHDRAWAL FROM THE SCHOOL

A student may withdraw from the School, upon application to the Assistant Dean. Application for reinstatement must be made at least four months prior to the date of readmission. If reinstatement is delayed more than a year, application must be made in competition with other candidates for admission. The return of fees and bond cancels registration.

DEGREES

DEGREE OF DOCTOR OF MEDICINE

Every candidate for the degree of Doctor of Medicine at this University must be at least twenty-one years of age, and of good moral character. He must have fulfilled all the requirements for admission to this Medical School; give evidence of having studied in a recognized medical school at least four full years, of which one year must be spent in the regular fourth-year course of this School; have passed all the required examinations; have dissected the three parts of the body to the satisfaction of the demonstrator; have taken charge of and reported on twelve cases in Obstetrics under supervision and instruction; and furnish evidence of having engaged in the practical exercises in Medicine and Surgery.

The degree of Doctor of Medicine cum laude or magna cum laude may be given to students of highest rating in the class, on recommendation of the Committee on Examinations.

Every candidate for the degree of M.D. must make application for it in writing on blanks furnished at the Dean's office, on or before May 1 of the year in which he proposes to graduate.

HIGHER DEGREES IN THE MEDICAL SCIENCES

The degrees Master of Arts, Doctor of Philosophy, and Doctor of Medical Sciences have been established for advanced work in some special field in the Medical Sciences. The first two degrees are voted by the Faculty of Arts and Sciences upon the recommendation of a Committee consisting of members of the Faculties of Medicine and of Arts and Sciences. The degree of Doctor of Medical Sciences is administered by the above Committee, excepting the members from Harvard College, and the degree is voted by the Medical Faculty. All candidates for these degrees must hold a degree in Arts or in Sciences from an approved college. These degrees are not awarded for mere reason of faithful study for a prescribed time, but primarily for high attainment in a selected science.

MASTER OF ARTS AND DOCTOR OF PHILOSOPHY

Candidates for the degree of Master of Arts must register in the Graduate School of Arts and Sciences, and pursue an approved course of study in medical science for at least one year.

Candidates for the degree of Doctor of Philosophy must fulfil certain preliminary requirements described in the general University Catalogue, must devote to approved advanced studies not less than two years—at least one of which must be spent in residence at this University—and must pass general examinations and present an account of original work in an accepted thesis, before being granted the degree.

The fees are $300 for each year. Beginning with the academic year 1928-29 fees for new students will be $400 for each year.

DOCTOR OF MEDICAL SCIENCES

Candidates for this degree must matriculate as medical students and complete with an honor grade the regular elementary courses offered by this School in Anatomy, Histology and Embryology, Physiology, Biological Chemistry, Bacteriology, Pathology, Pharmacology and Clinical Pathology, together with such other subjects as may be recommended by the Committee. In addition all candidates are required to have a reading knowledge of French and German. Ordinarily this preparatory training will be equivalent to the first two years of the course of study leading to the degree of M.D. Students who have completed all or a portion of this work in other approved medical schools may be admitted to candidacy upon presenting evidence that they have passed the above subjects or their equivalents with an honor grade, and upon passing the general examination described below.

Following the completion of this preliminary training the student shall devote himself for not less than two years to the intensive study of one of the fundamental medical sciences and to the preparation of a thesis. The thesis must show an original treatment of a fitting subject and give evidence of independent research.

There shall be two examinations for every candidate for this degree, a general examination, before entering upon the work of the last two years, covering the elementary medical sciences listed above; and a final examination, upon acceptance of the thesis, covering the particular medical science chosen as a special field.

The fees for the first two years are the same as for medical students.

Further information concerning the higher degrees may be secured from Dr. Hallowell Davis, Secretary of the Division of Medical Sciences, Harvard Medical School.

FEES AND EXPENSES

DEGREE OF DOCTOR OF MEDICINE

The fees are:—For matriculation, $5; for instruction (including laboratory charges except breakage, damage and loss of apparatus), $400 for each year. Students registered in or before the academic year 1926-27 will be allowed to complete their work under the tuition fees of 1926-27.

Tuition will be charged on the term-bills in four instalments, as follows: --

One-fourth on a term-bill issued and payable September 24.

One-fourth on a term-bill issued November 12 and payable November 30.

One-fourth on a term-bill issued January 12 and payable January 30.

One-fourth on a term-bill issued April 12 and payable April 30.

(Miscellaneous charges such as breakage, etc., on a term-bill issued June 13 and payable July 10.)

The matriculation fee will be charged on the term-bill of September 24. Bills for miscellaneous charges will be rendered at the time the indebtedness is incurred. A deposit of $50 is required of every new student who accepts a place in the Medical School; this sum to be applied on his first term-bill or to be forfeited if the student does not register.

In the year 1927-28 a loan fund was established from which students entering the first-year class in 1927 or thereafter and who are in need of money may borrow. This money is loaned on business principles.

Loans will be made to students in the Second, Third, and Fourth-year Classes, and, in occasional instances only, to men in the second half of the First Year. Loans will be made only to students whose records have been sufficiently creditable to make it altogether probable that they will remain in the School.

Applications for loans should be made to the Director of Scholarships and Loans.

Any student whose indebtedness to the University remains unpaid on the date fixed for payment is deprived of the privileges of the University until he is reinstated. Reinstatement is obtained only by consent of the Dean of the Department in which the student is enrolled, after payment of all indebtedness and a reinstatement fee of $10. Students will be held responsible for the payment of fees until they have notified the Dean, in writing, of their intention to withdraw from the School, and have subsequently received their bond from the Bursar.

Matriculants are required to own their microscopes and hemocytometers. These must be of a type acceptable to the Medical School. Their cost will be about $130.00. In exceptional cases, upon application to the Dean's Office before September 1, a matriculant may be permitted to rent a microscope.

A deposit of $1 with the Superintendent of Buildings will entitle the student to the use of a locker in the School buildings.

Vanderbilt Hall, the Medical School dormitory, has accommodations for 250 students. The price of rooms ranges from $135 to $300 for the academic year of thirty-nine weeks. Applications for rooms in the dormitory should be sent to the Dean of the Medical School before May 1. Students permitted to reëngage their rooms must file at the Dean's Office new room agreements on or before March 10, 1929.

The dormitory contains a large dining hall which will be available for all members of the Medical School. Meals will be served at reasonable prices.

BOND REQUIRED OF STUDENTS

Every student is required to file with the Bursar on his entrance to the School a bond in the sum of $500 signed by two bondsmen, one of whom must be a citizen of the United States, or by a surety company duly qualified to do business in Massachusetts, as security for the payment of his bills to the University; or he may deposit with the Bursar $500 in United States bonds for the same purpose.

No officer or student of the University is accepted as a bondsman.

MEDICAL ATTENDANCE

The Medical School provides a physician to students, who will give physical examination or medical treatment without charge during his office hours, from 1 to 2 o'clock daily, except Saturdays, Peter Bent Brigham Hospital, or at other times by appointment.

Under the auspices of the Department of Medicine a physical examination will be given each student during the academic year 1928-29.

Evidence of having been satisfactorily vaccinated is required for entrance to Harvard University.

Not later than October 1 in each academic year, any student may pay to the Bursar the sum of $10 for the maintenance of the Stillman Infirmary; and, on the order of a physician, every student who has taken advantage of this opportunity will be given, in case of sickness, in return for the fee, a bed in a ward, board, and ordinary nursing for a period not exceeding two weeks in any one academic year.

The course in Medicine, established by Harvard University in 1782, was given in buildings of the College, University Hall and Holden Chapel, from its establishment until 1810, when the classes were transferred to Boston. In 1816 the first Medical School building was erected. From 1882 until 1906 the School occupied the building at the corner of Boylston and Exeter Streets, now used by Boston University.

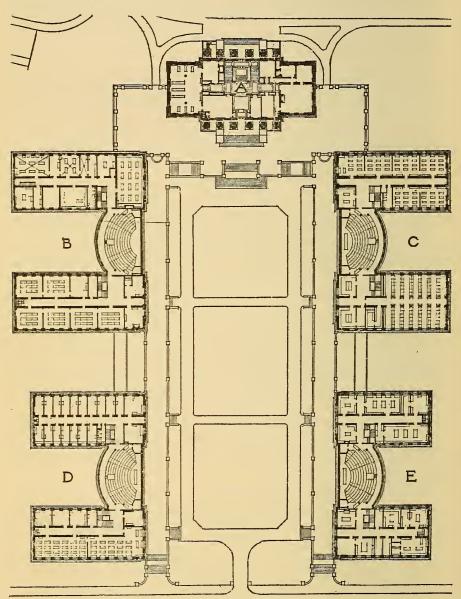

In 1906 the University completed a notable group of white marble buildings on Longwood Avenue for the Medical School. These buildings are five in number and with their surrounding grounds occupy eleven acres of land in the outskirts of Boston. One of these is designed for administration and four for housing the laboratory departments, and for laboratory and clinical instruction.

The Administration Building, with over 40,000 square feet of floor space, contains the Faculty Room, the Dean's offices, the joint library of the Medical School and the School of Public Health, and the Warren Museum.

The laboratory buildings, designated by the letters B, C, D, and E, are all constructed on the same general plan. Each consists of two parallel wings united at the front by an amphitheatre with a seating capacity of two hundred and fifty. Both the smaller rooms and the laboratories were designed on a unit system which greatly simplifies the changes required in making these suited to the needs of departments whose methods of teaching have changed since the rooms were originally designed.

The amount of floor space varies considerably in each of the four buildings, but the design is such that this variation is not apparent from the main quadrangle.

Building B accommodates the department of Anatomy, Histology, and Embryology. The wings each have three floors and a total floor space of over 52,000 square feet.

OUTLINE PLAN OF THE HARVARD MEDICAL SCHOOL

Building C provides space for the departments of Physiology, Physical Chemistry, Biochemistry, and Experimental Surgery. In this building each wing has four floors and a total floor space of 62,000 square feet.

Building D is occupied by the departments of Bacteriology, Neuropathology, Pathology, and Tropical Medicine. In this building there are five floors in one wing and three floors in the other, with a total floor space of over 48,000 square feet. The Animal House is between buildings B and D.

Building E houses Pharmacology, Preventive Medicine, and Comparative Pathology. There are three floors in one wing and four floors in the other, with a floor space of 35,000 square feet.

The outline plan of the buildings and their position is shown on p. 40. The clinical departments are housed in the various hospitals associated with the School. Vanderbilt Hall, the dormitory for medical students, is immediately adjacent to the Medical School buildings.

LIBRARIES

The joint library of the Medical School and the School of Public Health is on the second floor of the Administration Building, and in the other buildings are branch libraries. By an arrangement with the Peter Bent Brigham Hospital, library facilities for the hospital are available here. This library is open from 9 A.M. until 10 P.M., on Saturdays from 9 A.M. until 1 P.M. The present number of volumes in the library is 48,484, and in addition there are 112,182 pamphlets and 453 current periodicals kept on file.

The College Library at Cambridge is open to the students of this School. The Boston Public Library is open to students who are inhabitants of Boston. Students, not inhabitants of Boston, who have filed a bond at the Bursar's office, may also use this library. The Bursar will furnish on application the necessary certificate of bond.

The Boston Medical Library, No. 8 The Fenway, contains about 145,988 bound volumes and 96,623 pamphlets, and nearly 742 current periodicals are on file. This very valuable library is open to those who desire to consult medical literature, on week days from 9.30 A.M. to 10 P.M., on Saturdays till 6 P.M.

WARREN ANATOMICAL MUSEUM

The Warren Anatomical Museum was founded in 1847 by John Collins Warren, of the College Class of 1797, Adjunct Professor of Anatomy and Surgery from 1809 to 1815, Hersey Professor of Anatomy and Surgery from 1815 to 1847, Professor Emeritus from 1847 to his death in 1856, son of John Warren, the first Hersey Professor of Anatomy and Surgery. This important Museum is open to students in the School, and its collections are used in demonstration of the lectures. It occupies the upper three floors of the Administration Building. Myrtelle M. Canavan, M.D., is Curator.

The collection has over twenty thousand specimens, illustrating both normal and pathological anatomy. Students and graduates may have access to these specimens at any time upon application to the Curator.

Besides dissections and serial sections of bones, the anatomical collection includes many injections, corrosion preparations, models and groups of bones, notably the Dwight collection of spines, hands and feet, Tello collection of skulls, etc.

The pathological collection of "hand" specimens, conveniently housed in 40-gallon tanks, is for the use of students, and mounted specimens illustrate the major diseases.

There is a collection of medico-legal material which has a section to itself and forms a basis for teaching.

The American Ambulance of Paris has contributed a large number of specimens from the European War, a most valuable collection, especially for a student of military surgery.

HOSPITAL FACILITIES

The transfer in 1810 of the Medical School of Harvard University from Cambridge to Boston was made in order to secure the advantages of the larger clinical facilities which are to be found in large cities. Clinical advantages from the students' viewpoint are not a matter of large hospitals only, but rather are related to the number of patients in these hospitals who are under the care of instructors on the staff of the Medical School and available for teaching purposes. This School is closely affiliated on the above basis with the hospitals described in the following list, thus offering Harvard Medical School students an unrivaled opportunity to secure a well-organized clinical experience and knowledge of disease. Each student comes into intimate contact, under supervision, with patients in these hospitals, beginning in the second half of the second year and increasing until the fourth year, when the students serve as clinical clerks and give all their time to the study of patients.

The Massachusetts General Hospital. — This is a general hospital associated with the Medical School since its foundation in 1821. There are services in Medicine, Surgery, Pediatrics, Dermatology, Genito-Urinary diseases, Laryngology, Orthopaedics, Neurology, and Syphilis, all of which are used in giving instruction in these special departments of medicine. The hospital has 525 beds, 417 of them being available for teaching purposes. In the General Hospital 6,972 patients were admitted last year and there were 126,329 patients' days treatment. Large out-patient departments in the above clinical departments are also used for instruction.

31,871 new patients were admitted to the out-patient department last year for a total of 203,809 visits. 10,805 patients were treated in the Emergency Ward. Laboratories in Pathology, Chemistry, and X-ray are maintained, and there is an excellent medical library, all of which are open to students in the Medical School.

The Boston City Hospital. — This hospital, with 1,760 beds, all of which are available for teaching purposes, serves as one of the teaching units for the Medical School. The 2d and 4th Medical services, the 5th Surgical, the Neurological and Pathological services are under the direction of Professors at the Harvard Medical School. In addition there are divisions of Pediatrics, Gynaecology, etc., open to medical students. In the outpatient department, 81,728 new patients applied for diagnosis and treatment during the year 1927. They furnish additional teaching material. Clinical laboratories are maintained for research, pathology, nephritic, diabetic and basal metabolism, blood, pediatric, immunological and neurological work. The X-ray service is very large and important. There is an excellent library, including 73 current medical journals.

The Boston City Hospital, South Department.— This hospital is for contagious diseases and occupies a block by itself adjacent to the Boston City Hospital proper. It has a capacity of 338 beds and has abundant material for clinical instruction. Students make ward visits three or more times a week. During the year 1927 there were 2,380 cases treated, of which 1,048 were scarlet fever, 428 were diphtheria, and 58 were poliomyelitis cases.

Hospital Department — Sanatorium Division. — The Boston Sanatorium for tuberculous patients at Mattapan is a department of the Boston City Hospital. It has a capacity of 422 beds and a daily average of 373 patients. During eight months of the year two to six fourth-year students of Harvard Medical School spend eight hours daily for one week in this hospital under the supervision of the Resident Physician.

The Peter Bent Brigham Hospital. — This hospital has been closely associated with the Medical School since its dedication in 1913. It is for general medical and surgical cases, and is situated on grounds adjacent to the Medical School buildings. There are 246 beds, all of which are used for teaching purposes. There is also maintained an out-patient service for ambulatory medical and surgical patients to which 7,699 new patients applied during the past year. The total number of visits was 60,671. There are well-equipped medical, surgical, and pathological laboratories. The hospital, by special arrangement, makes use of the library of the Medical School.

The Children's Hospital. — The buildings of this hospital are on Longwood Avenue, adjacent to the Medical School. This hospital maintains a medical, surgical, orthopæedic, nose and throat, and a well-babies clinic. There are 224 beds, of which 176 are available for teaching purposes. During the year there were 5,629 cases treated in the wards, and 57,153 visits were made to the out-patient department. Well-equipped laboratories are provided for the study of material from the wards and out-patient service.

The Infants' Hospital (Thomas Morgan Rotch Jr. Memorial Hospital for Infants). — This hospital is adjacent to and under the management of the Children's Hospital. There are 66 beds, all of which are devoted to the care of infants. All of the cases in this hospital are available for teaching.

The Boston Lying-in Hospital. — This hospital occupies a building completed in 1923 at 221 Longwood Avenue. Of the 100 beds, 65 are used for teaching. During the past year 2,089 patients received treatment in the hospital, of whom 1,715 were delivered. In addition, in the out-patient department, 1,250 cases were attended under supervision by third and fourth-year students. A well-equipped laboratory is available.

The Free Hospital for Women. — This hospital is devoted exclusively to the surgical treatment of diseases peculiar to women. The hospital has a capacity of 94 beds, of which 62 are available for teaching. In the outpatient department there were 7,351 consultations last year. Library and laboratory facilities are available.

Boston Psychopathic Hospital. — This is a state institution for acute, curable, incipient, and doubtful cases of mental disease. The hospital was opened to patients in June, 1912. It has 110 beds, all of which are available for teaching, and receives patients at the rate of about 1,800 a year. The hospital is equipped with psychological, neuropathological and biochemical laboratories. The out-patient department receives patients at the rate of 1,000 a year. In addition to the psychoses and neuroses, the clinical material includes cases of mental defect and disorder in childhood, cases of mental instability, and of delinquency.

The Massachusetts Eye and Ear Infirmary. — There are 209 beds in this hospital, 167 of which are used for instruction in diseases of the eye, ear, nose and throat. Over 7,000 patients are treated in the wards, and last year there were 73,624 out-patient visits. Pathological and X-ray laboratories are maintained.

The Beth Israel Hospital.—This is a newly completed general hospital with a capacity of 180 beds, 102 of which are available for teaching. The institution is located on Brookline Avenue around the corner from the Harvard Medical School. The Hospital is equipped for teaching and research, having a medical research and pathological laboratory, each under the direction of a full-time physician who is associated with the Faculty of the Harvard Medical School. There are also electrocardiograph and basal-metabolism laboratories, animal research equipment, and an extensive X-ray department. There are eighteen pediatric beds. An out-patient department, capable of serving over twenty thousand patients per year, will have the following clinics: medicine, surgery, pediatrics, gynaecology, dermatology, genito-urinary diseases, ophthalmology, otolaryngology, neurology and orthopaedics.

The Collis P. Huntington Memorial Hospital and the J. Collins Warren Laboratory of Bio-Physics. — This hospital and laboratory of the Cancer Commission of Harvard University afford opportunity for the study of human tumor cases. The aim of the hospital is to study special problems concerning the natural history and the treatment of tumors. It affords a means for early diagnosis, treatment, or advice regarding therapeutic measures. There are 22 beds, all of which are available for teaching purposes; out-patients are received at stated hours. During the past year, 1,753 new patients were treated in the house and out-patient department.

The Boston Dispensary. — 131,231 visits were made by out-patients at this institution during the past year. Students have opportunity for seeing practical work in the diagnosis and treatment of cases in all branches of medicine and surgery. Undergraduates are taught in the Surgical Clinic twice a week during the School year. The opportunities in children's work are good, as there is, in addition, a well-equipped hospital for children, with 32 beds, chiefly for medical cases. The Dispensary is used mainly for graduate instruction.

HOSPITAL APPOINTMENTS

About eighty appointments as internes and assistants are made annually to hospitals in and about Boston for terms of service varying from six months to two years. These appointments are made after a competitive examination.

THE CANCER COMMISSION OF HARVARD UNIVERSITY

The Cancer Commission of Harvard University was founded in 1899, by the late Mrs. Caroline Brewer Croft, who left in her will a sum of money for the investigation of the cause and treatment of cancer. Since that time other sums have been contributed for cancer research, and the Cancer Commission of Harvard University was organized in 1909. Its work is carried on chiefly at the Huntington Hospital and its laboratories.

PROCTOR FUND

A bequest of fifty thousand dollars by Ellen Osborne Proctor, for the purpose of promoting the study of chronic diseases, subsequently has been increased by an additional fifty thousand dollars from another member of the Proctor family. The income of this fund is to be devoted to investigations into the nature and treatment of chronic diseases and the care of persons afflicted with these diseases while in hospitals for such investigations. The special disposition of the income of this fund is under the control of a committee composed of the professors of Theory and Practice of Physic, Clinical Medicine, and Pathology. Henry A. Christian, M.D., is Chairman of the Proctor Fund Committee.

WILLIAM W. WELLINGTON FUND

In 1925 a bequest was received from William H. Wellington to establish the "William W. Wellington Memorial Research Fund." The income of this fund is to be applied for research concerning the etiology and therapeutics of the diseases of man, and is to be administered by a Committee composed of the heads of the departments of Pathology, Medicine, and Pharmacology. S. Burt Wolbach, M.D., is the Chairman.

HARVARD INFANTILE PARALYSIS COMMISSION

A Commission for the purpose of assisting in the early recognition, treatment, and study of infantile paralysis was appointed by the Corporation September 25, 1916.

This Commission shortly after it was established was appointed agent of the State Department of Health, thereby assuring coöperation with the Commonwealth. The Commission also coöperates with the Vermont Board of Health. Mr. Roger Pierce is the Chairman.

COURSES FOR GRADUATES

The object of this division of the Medical School is to offer graduates in Medicine opportunities to continue their studies in a thorough and scientific manner.

While all courses are intended primarily for those who hold degrees from recognized medical schools, certain courses in the scientific subjects are adapted to the needs of advanced students and teachers of science. Such persons may be admitted to courses on the approval of the Administrative Board.

Undergraduate students of medicine may be admitted to such courses as they are qualified to take. Special consideration for the needs of such students will be given in the plans for summer courses.

Laboratory facilities at the Harvard Medical School and the abundant clinical opportunities in the various hospitals are available for graduate instruction. Clinical and laboratory instruction will be conducted in small classes so that students may receive personal attention. Frank R. Ober, M.D., Assistant Dean, is in charge.

SCHOOL OF PUBLIC HEALTH

This School was opened in 1922 to organize under one Faculty courses in Public Health, some of which were previously offered by other departments of the University and of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. Its object is to provide the scientific groundwork which underlies efficient health administration.

Courses in Bacteriology, Parasitology, Epidemiology, Communicable Diseases, Tropical Medicine, Public Health Administration, Physiology, Nutrition, Ventilation and Illumination, Vital Statistics, Sanitary Engineering, Child Hygiene, Mental Hygiene, Industrial Hygiene, are offered, which aim to train the student to become an intelligent Public Health official. Opportunity is also given to students wishing to pursue research in Public Health. Any course may be taken singly, or a student may devote a considerable period of time to one subject. For further information, apply to the Secretary.

FELLOWSHIPS AND SCHOLARSHIPS

FELLOWSHIPS

BULLARD FELLOWSHIPS. Established in 1891 by a gift from WILLIAM STORY BULLARD of Boston, "in memory of three physicians who were distinguished for their honorable personal character and for their professional services in this community." The three following fellowships were established:—

THE GEO	RGE CHEYNE SHATTUCK MEMOR	IAL FELLOWSHIP $425
THE JOHN	WARE MEMORIAL FELLOWSHIP	P 425
THE CHA	RLES ELIOT WARE MEMORIAL F	ELLOWSHIP 400

The income from any one or all of these fellowships may be paid to any student or member of the medical profession who shall be selected by the Administrative Board of the Medical School to make such original investigations in Medical Science as in their opinion will be most useful to the profession and to the community. The results of such investigations shall not, however, be published as a research performed under the grant of a Bullard Fellowship, unless the work shall have received the approval of the Committee. If published with the approval of the Committee, mention shall be made of the fact that the work was done under a Bullard Fellowship.

Holders of Bullard Fellowships are required to do an amount of work equivalent to not less than ten hours a week throughout the academic year and to present to the Committee at the end of the academic year a report on the amount and result of the work performed.

ANNOUNCEMENT OF COURSES

The "Announcement of Courses" comprises a statement by each Department as to its general plan of instruction and its various required exercises, followed by a résumé of the Fourth-Year Elective Courses and the Voluntary Courses.

Each student in the fourth year must secure credit for eight one-month courses of 144 hours or their equivalent. Required courses fill seven months' time, leaving one month free for elective work. Students may anticipate certain of the required courses during the summer preceding the fourth year and thus gain more time for elective work in the fourth year. In the following statements whole courses have a value of 144 hours, half-courses of 72 hours, and quarter-courses of 36 hours.

An opportunity for voluntary work is offered to second- and third-year students on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons. It is believed that upperclassmen will welcome a chance to keep in touch with the most recent developments in the fundamental sciences; that an interest in certain fundamental subjects will have been aroused by their clinical work; or that they may feel the desire for additional training on some point. Students are not required or even asked to take this work: it is entirely a voluntary matter, and no credit will be given.

Pamphlets describing the opportunities for elective and voluntary work in detail and outlining the special conditions under which such work may be undertaken are issued to the students each spring.

In the department of Anatomy, instruction is given in Anatomy, Comparative Anatomy, Histology, and Embryology. The department occupies the Morgan Anatomical Building, the dissecting rooms being in the wing designated BI, and the laboratories for Histology, Embryology, and Comparative Anatomy in the wing BII. There are separate rooms for second-year, fourth-year and graduate students and for various kinds of technical work. The class work is carried on by sections in unit rooms, designed to accommodate either twelve or twenty-four students. There is a large library which contains complete files of the most important anatomical and morphological journals, together with many standard works of reference, and in an adjoining room there is a collection of about thirteen thousand pamphlets. A card catalogue and a classified bibliography give ready access to the literature.

The laboratory offers exceptional facilities for work in human and comparative anatomy and embryology.

The Embryological Collection is a unique feature of the laboratory. It comprises about twenty-three hundred series of sections of carefully selected vertebrate embryos, and affords therefore opportunities for research in comparative embryology such as cannot be found elsewhere. The collection includes eighty series of sections of human embryos, several of which are of exceptional value, among them being two of the very youngest stages of man yet obtained. The collection of embryological models contains the standard series and many unique original models.

REQUIRED COURSES

ANATOMY A AND B. First Year. — The courses of the first year are intended to teach human anatomy, both gross and microscopic, together with the essentials of human embryology. Half of the time is devoted to work in the dissecting room, the other half to work in the histological and embryo-logical laboratories. In the study of gross anatomy, each student makes a complete dissection of one half of the human body, and all of the class dissect the same part at the same time. Two men will be assigned to the same subject, and will work together during the course. The study of the skeleton is carried on with the dissection, and each student will be provided with a box of bones which may be kept throughout the course. There will be lectures or demonstrations which are arranged to correspond as closely as possible with the work in the dissecting room. These lectures not only will serve as a guide to the regular work in the dissecting room, but also will be used to emphasize those details of human anatomy which the student cannot easily study for himself in his own dissection. Special dissections made by prosectors from the second-year class, frozen sections, and various anatomical specimens and preparations will be displayed each day to illustrate and supplement that part of the subject treated in the lecture, or about to be studied in the dissecting room. Students are urged to examine these specimens carefully, and to discuss them informally with the instructors. Students will be quizzed each week on their work in the laboratory by the instructors in charge of their section. Practical examinations only will be given in the first year. At the end of the second-year course there will be a written examination which will cover the work in both courses.

The part of the course dealing with microscopic anatomy is a study of cells, tissues, and organs, from the developmental standpoint. The fundamental tissues and the various organs are traced to their adult form by the aid of chick embryos of 30 and 48 hours and pig embryos of 40 days, and sections of adult material. The course follows as nearly as possible the work in the dissecting room. In connection with the uterus, the human placenta and fetal membranes are considered, and several exercises are devoted to the central nervous system and sense organs.

ANATOMY C. Second Year. — The course in second-year anatomy is conducted twice a week during the first term. The class is divided into two sections. The work will consist of the careful study of frozen sections of the human body. Charts, special dissections, and preparations will be displayed in the laboratory to illustrate the various structures seen in the sections. Correlation of the structures in the sections and in dissected cadavers will be stressed, and unusual opportunity for such correlation is furnished by the collection in the Dwight Room which adjoins the laboratory. Each pair of students will be furnished with actual photographs of twenty selected sections of the body, life size or slightly reduced, on heavy mat paper suitable for outlining and coloring. At each exercise will be given talks on the practical clinical application of the anatomical relations, surface landmarks, surgical approaches, etc.

The course is intended to serve as a topographical review of the work of the first year, and to lead to a close correlation of anatomy and the clinical courses in physical diagnosis. Once a week a lecture in applied anatomy is given by teachers in the Departments of Medicine, Orthopaedic Surgery, Genito-Urinary Surgery, Gynaecology, Otology, or Ophthalmology. There will be one or two short examinations during the course. A final written examination will cover the work in both first and second-year courses in anatomy.

Bacteriology A. Second Year. — The required course for medical students is taught by lectures, laboratory work, and conferences. Stress in this course is laid upon those parts of bacteriology and immunology which are directly pertinent to the pathology of infectious disease, its practical diagnosis and treatment. The students are introduced as rapidly as possible to the medical problems of bacteriology, and the subjects taught are illustrated by materials obtained from the associated hospitals. Immunological and serological technique in its practical aspects is dealt with by group instruction, and the preventive aspects of the physician's duties in relation to infectious diseases are considered as thoroughly as time permits.

REQUIRED COURSES

PATHOLOGY A. Second Year. — The course in Pathology consists of laboratory work and lectures. The basis of the laboratory work is a systematic course in pathological histology In connection with this there are demonstrations of fresh material and museum specimens and experiments on animals bearing on the subjects studied. For demonstrations, autopsy attendance, and experimental work the students are divided into small sections. The demonstrations and experimental work are given in connection with the subjects which are being studied, in rooms adjoining the main laboratory which are adequately provided with apparatus. Lectures are given three days in the week by Drs. Wolbach, Mallory and staff. The object of the lecture is to expand and coordinate the knowledge which the student obtains by the study of material and to introduce important recent advances not yet incorporated in text-books. During the entire period of the course groups of students are sent to the various hospitals to see and assist in postmortem examinations. The postmortem material of the Peter Bent Brigham Hospital, the Boston City Hospital, the Massachusetts General Hospital, the Infants' Hospital, the Children's Hospital, the Huntington Hospital, the Palmer Memorial Hospital, the House of the Good Samaritan, and the Long Island Hospital is available for instruction. Each group prepares microscopical specimens of the tissues from each autopsy they attend, and immediately afterwards meets for a conference with one of the instructors, when the whole case is reviewed and discussed. At these conferences the clinical history of the case is read, and as far as possible the pathological findings are correlated with the clinical features. No attempt is made to separate the subject of Pathology into general pathology and pathological anatomy, but the subject is studied as a whole. The more important organs of the body are covered, towards the end of the course, with reference to their special pathology, particularly the blood, liver, spleen, kidneys, pancreas, and genitalia. In teaching, the student is taught methods of work, is given material, and directed, but he is taught to work independently. Tumors and other material coming from the surgical clinics are made full use of in the course. Conferences and recitations will occasionally be substituted for regular laboratory work.

Demonstrations of gross material are held each teaching day in the Warren Museum, which is now an integral part of the Department of Pathology. Special space has been provided for the use of second-year students. The Museum is open in the evening and it is extensively utilized by students for purposes of reviews and conferences. Free access to a large collection of unmounted gross material is permitted at all times. Special collections are arranged by the Curator and are kept accessible to the students for long periods throughout the teaching course.

On Saturdays conferences and recitations are substituted for the regular laboratory work.

In the afternoons of February Drs. TYZZER and FABYAN give a course of lectures and laboratory exercises on animal parasites, particularly the protozoa and the infections produced by them.

Approximately fifty hours are given to lectures and laboratory work in neuropathology, certain exercises being interdigitated with the course in general pathology, and twelve consecutive exercises in the more special diseases of the nervous system are given in April. (See Neuropathology.)

Third Year. — Clinical pathological demonstrations are held two hours a week throughout the year in the pathological amphitheatre alternately of the P.B.B.H. and of the M.G.H. Autopsy material is presented along with the case records.

REQUIRED COURSES

The instruction given by the Department of Medicine consists in lectures, recitations, amphitheatre clinics, practical work in the out-patient department and wards of the hospitals, and a thorough course in clinical pathology given at the Harvard Medical School in the laboratory of the Department.

Second and Third Years. — The time given to the Department of Medicine in the medical curriculum comes in the second half of the second year and throughout the third and fourth years. During the second half of the second year, instruction in the methods of history taking, physical examination, and laboratory technique is offered, and a few lectures and demonstrations introductory to internal medicine. Throughout the third year the subjects of internal medicine are covered by lectures, clinics, and recitations. During the third year also the students come in intimate contact with patients in the out-door departments of the various hospitals in small groups under the supervision of instructors. Throughout this year a clinical pathological conference is held weekly in conjunction with the Department of Pathology. Voluntary courses are offered to third-year students at various times throughout the year.

Fourth Year. — In this year the students serve as clinical clerks in the wards of a general hospital for two or three months, part of which time is devoted to acting as assistants to the clinic in the out-door departments. Each student is expected to work up some problem to present for discussion during these months. In this year the students who elect three months of medicine will have special instruction at a hospital exclusively for tubercular patients. Opportunity is offered in the fourth year for specially qualified students to take advanced courses and carry on research problems in internal medicine.

The instruction is given at the Harvard Medical School, the Peter Bent Brigham Hospital, the Massachusetts General Hospital, the Boston City Hospital, the Beth Israel Hospital and several other hospitals devoted to special purposes. In these hospitals abundant and varied clinical material is available for the conduct of the numerous exercises.

PSYCHIATRY

REQUIRED COURSES

First Year. — Medical Psychology. Physiology deals with the reactions of the various organs and systems; psychology deals with the reactions of the individual to the environment. In this course on medical psychology the student will have an opportunity of studying briefly the emotional reactions, their modification by experience, the rôle played in these reactions by the various systems; the ability to receive, elaborate, store, and reactivate impressions; variations in constitutional endowment; special lines of weakness; the importance of personal factors in medicine in general, and especially in relation to nervous and mental disorders.

Third Year. — From September 24 through January clinical lectures will be given once a week at the Psychopathic Hospital. An endeavor will be made to present examples of all the most important varieties of mental disorder, with special emphasis on the mild and incipient cases which are frequently treated by the general practitioner. More attention will be given to the dynamic analysis and the practical problems of the individual case than to questions of formal classification. Some examples of nervous and mental disorders of childhood will be presented.

For bed-side work the class is divided into small sections, and each student will be given opportunity for personally studying individual cases.

Following a brief preliminary survey of the field of Medical Zoölogy, such protozoa as are considered of medical importance will be taken up with special reference to their identification and life-cycles.

2. Helminthology. Drs. Augustine, Sandground and Hobbs. Half-course, afternoons. November.

It is designed to give the student a general knowledge of the biology of the helminthes, and to acquaint him with those species parasitic in man and the diseases caused by them.

3. Medical Entomology. Drs. Bequaert and Herrig. Half-course, afternoons. December.

The course is a brief survey of the field of Medical Entomology. While some attention is given to the classification and structure of arthropods, emphasis is placed on the rôle played by insects as disease transmitters.

4. Infectious Diseases. Drs. Strong, Sellards, Shattuck, and Theiler. Half-course, afternoons. January.

The course consists of lectures, laboratory work, and clinical instruction.

The most important infectious and other preventable diseases of tropical and foreign countries will be dealt with.

Sce also Comparative Pathology, p. 69.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

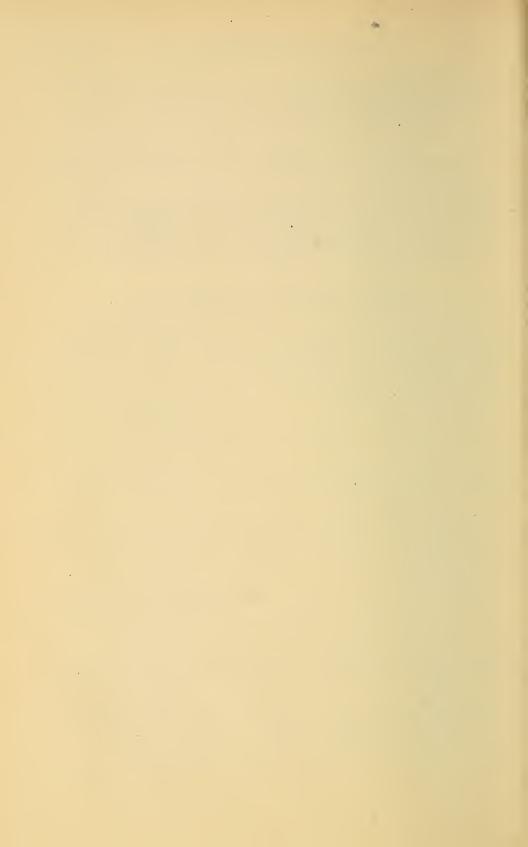

The instructor in Physical Education plans the work in order to benefit the health of the medical student and also to give him an opportunity of realizing the importance of systematic exercise in the maintenance of health. To this end close coöperation is maintained with those in charge of the physical examination and the health of the students. A student may elect the type of exercise best suited to his particular needs as advised at the time of his physical examination.

RESERVE OFFICERS' TRAINING CORPS

A medical unit of the Reserve Officers' Training Corps provides systematic training for the purpose of qualifying selected students for appointment in the medical officers Reserve Corps in the military forces of the United States. Thirty lectures on medico-military subjects are given by the Professor of Military Science and Tactics during each of the four school years to the students who have been enrolled as members of the medical unit. There are two courses of instruction, basic and advanced, the former occupying the first two years, the latter the last two years of the medical course. Selected students are eligible for appointment as internes in Army hospitals for twelve months. This follows appointment to the Reserve Corps upon receiving the degree in medicine.

In addition to the instruction by means of lectures, students who have completed the basic course and have been enrolled in the advanced course will attend a course of military instruction of about six weeks' duration at a summer camp.

Having completed the basic course, students are entitled to draw, during the last two years, while enrolled in the advanced course, commutation of rations amounting at present to approximately $108 per annum, paid quarterly. This, with camp allowances, amounts to some $250 for the last two years. All expenses of the camp term, including transportation, are borne by the War Department. This camp of instruction lasts six weeks and is held at the Camp designated by War Department Order. Up to and including 1927 the camp of instruction was held at the Medical Field Service School at Carlisle, Pennsylvania; during 1928 instruction was given at Camp Devens, Massachusetts.
